

Easily Automate Workflows and Process Documents Intelligently

Future-proof your business with intelligent process automation

The combination of Pipefy low-code business process automation workflow and ABBYY Vantage intelligent document processing empowers business users to deploy digital workflows quickly and automate labor-intensive document-driven work across all business processes.

Expand automation to new processes in a fast and simple way and see immediate impact with these two low-code platforms.

Simplicity: Automate business process workflows fast by democratizing technology so that business process owners can create complex applications, resulting in faster time to implementation.

Speed: Drag, drop, and deploy out-of-the-box pre-trained skills for just about any document type, in any language, for any business process. The solution can read, analyze, and process content in documents like a human, based on industry leading AI and machine learning technology, delivering accelerated time to value.

Scale: Understand process performance, find bottlenecks, and get actionable insights to continuously optimize processes and gain even more efficiency with continuous learning.

Accelerate business value with Pipefy and ABBYY

Faster time to deploy: Speedier turn-around times, reduced process latency, and less human error mean faster and more accurate responses to customers and a better customer experience. Serve more customers with the same or even fewer resources.

Faster time to value: Centralize and streamline your workflows by automating manual tasks, connecting processes, and creating execution standards.

Improved customer experience: Easily collect all necessary information to start a workflow, and automatically update customers, vendors, and other teams on the status of their requests.

Data-driven visibility: Connect tools, processes, and people and give managers the needed visibility to make data-driven decisions.

Compliance risks mitigated: Secure, integrated, and flexible solution that scales according to your needs on a quick-to-deploy, low-code platform.

Mortgage Lending | Insurance Claims | Transportation & Logistics

Use ABBYY + Pipefy intelligent automation in a range of use cases

HR Onboarding

Digital-first HR onboarding has become the norm during and after the pandemic. Yet, according to a Gallop survey, 88% of organizations surveyed have identified onboarding as ineffective. Research by Brandon Hall Group found that organizations with strong onboarding processes improve new hire retention by 82% and productivity by over 70%.*

HR onboarding processes are streamlined with ABBYY + Pipefy using out-of-the-box, pre-trained document skills that automate the capture and analysis of HR onboarding documents.

Financial Services

Fifty-six percent of financial institutions say data collection from borrowers is one of the most challenging and inefficient steps in the credit decisioning process, with 31% of financial services leaders saying it takes more than a week to onboard new customers.

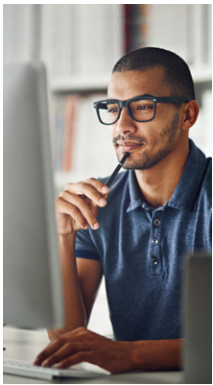

ABBYY + Pipefy accelerates the lending process by simplifying access to data for seamless client identification and verification, resulting in improved customer onboarding and streamlined loan processing.

Insurance

The insurance industry is document-driven, but few insurers have fully automated their handling of the essential documents used in quoting, underwriting, onboarding, and claims adjudication.

We help automatically capture and process documents at every stage in the policy administration and claims management lifecycles, including, quoting, underwriting, customer onboarding, policy endorsements, FNOL, loss evaluation and investigation, subrogation, and legal disputes, enabling your teams to make better, faster decisions that positively impact growth, revenue, and customer satisfaction.

Finance and Accounting

Process inefficiencies in Accounts Payable affect both the AP and the Finance functions, from too-long invoice cycle time to missed SLAs, lack of visibility, high costs, regulatory risk, and a lack of control over liabilities.

We help finance organizations by automating the AP/AR processes and delivering straight-through processing of invoices, resulting in greater than 90% reduction in transaction costs and 80%+ improvement in invoice processing cycle times, fewer late payments, and higher return on invested capital by extending early payment discounts to preferred suppliers.
